Attorney Docket Number: 4000-3 :

ON PETITION

This is a decision in reference to the paper entitled "RENEWED PETITION TO REVIVE ABANDONED PATENT APPLICATION UNDER RULE 181 AND PETITION UNDER RULE 137(A) TO REIVE AN UNAVOIDABLE ABANDONED APPLICATION," filed on September 12, 2007, which is treated as a petition under 37 CFR 1.137(a)<sup>1</sup> to revive the above-identified application.

The petition is dismissed.

Any request for reconsideration of this decision must be submitted within TWO (2) MONTHS from the mail date of this decision. Extensions of time under 37 CFR 1.136(a) are permitted. The reconsideration request should include a cover letter entitled "Renewed Petition under 37 CFR 1.137(a)" or "Renewed Petition under 37 CFR 1.137(b)." This is not a final agency decision.

(1) the required reply, unless previously filed; In a nonprovisional application abandoned for failure to prosecute, the required reply may be met by the filing of a continuing application. In a nonprovisional utility or plant application filed on or after June 8, 1995, and abandoned for failure to prosecute, the required reply may also be met by the filing of a request for continued examination in compliance with § 1.114. In an application or patent, abandoned or lapsed for failure to pay the issue fee or any portion thereof, the required reply must be the payment of the issue fee or any outstanding balance thereof. In an application abandoned for failure to pay the publication fee, the required reply must include payment of the publication fee.

(2) the petition fee as set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(1);

(3) a showing to the satisfaction of the Commissioner that the entire delay in filing the required reply from the due date for the reply until the filing of a grantable petition pursuant to 37 CFR 1.137(a) was unavoidable; and

(4) any terminal disclaimer (and fee as set forth in 37 CFR 1.20(d)) required pursuant to 37 CFR 1.137(c)).

This application became abandoned on May 11, 2006, for failure to timely submit a proper reply to the final Office action mailed on February 10, 2006, which set a three (3) month shortened statutory period for reply. On May 9, 2006, an amendment after final rejection was filed. On May 16, 2007, an Advisory Action Before the Filing of an Appeal Brief was mailed, stating that the amendment failed to place the application in condition for allowance. Notice of Abandonment was mailed on May 21, 2007. The petition filed on June 28, 2007, to withdraw the holding of abandonment was dismissed on August 28, 2007.

Petitioner's counsel avers that the delay was unavoidable because petitioners received a faxed copy of a Notice of Allowance from the examiner stating the case "would not go abandoned." Petitioner asserts he relied upon this communication from the examiner.

At the outset, the petition lacks the reply required by 37 CFR 1.137(a)(1). The only proper reply to a final Office action is a Notice of Appeal and fee, Request for Continuing Examination and submission under 37 CFR 1.114, a continuing application, or an amendment placing the application in prima facie condition for allowance. The examiner has determined that the amendment filed with the petition on June 28, 2007, does not place the case in prima facie condition for allowance.

Any renewed petition must be accompanied by a proper reply to the final Office action.

With regard to 37 CFR 1.137(b)(3), the Director may revive an abandoned application if the delay in responding to the relevant outstanding Office requirement is shown to the satisfaction of the Director to be "unavoidable".<sup>2</sup> Decisions on reviving abandoned applications on the basis of "unavoidable" delay have adopted the reasonably prudent person standard in determining if the delay was unavoidable:

The word 'unavoidable' . . . is applicable to ordinary human affairs, and requires no more or greater care or diligence than is generally used and observed by prudent and careful men in relation to their most important business. It permits them in the exercise of this care to rely upon the ordinary and trustworthy agencies of mail and telegraph, worthy and reliable employees, and such other means and instrumentalities as are usually employed in such important business. If unexpectedly, or through the unforeseen fault or imperfection of these agencies and instrumentalities, there occurs a failure, it may properly be said to be unavoidable, all other conditions of promptness in its rectification being present.<sup>3</sup>

The showing of record is inadequate to establish unavoidable delay within the meaning of 35 U.S.C. § 133 and 37 CFR 1.137(a).<sup>4</sup> Specifically, an application is "unavoidably" abandoned only where petitioner, or counsel for petitioner, takes all action necessary for a proper response to the outstanding Office action, but through the intervention of unforeseen circumstances, such as failure of mail, telegraph, facsimile, or the negligence of otherwise reliable employees, the response is not timely received in the Office.<sup>5</sup>

The gravamen of petitioner's argument, that he relied upon the "draft" Notice of Allowability and faxed statement of the examiner that the case would not go abandoned, has been carefully considered, but is not persuasive.

In this regard, the showing of record is that the examiner intended, at the time the facsimile transmission dated August 1, 2006, was sent to petitioner, to allow the application, but subsequently determined that the amendment filed in response to the final rejection did not place the application in condition for allowance.

Petitioner is reminded that it is the duty of the applicant to take proper measures to maintain the pendency of petitioner's application. When a final Office action has been mailed, as here, the only appropriate response is an amendment which prima facie places the application in condition for allowance, a continuing application, a Request for Continued Examination and the required submission under 37 CFR 1.114, or a Notice of Appeal.

Supp. 550, 552, 138 USPQ 666, 167-68 (D.D.C. 1963), aff'd, 143 USPQ 172 (D.C. Cir. 1963); Ex parte Henrich, 1913 Dec. Comm'r Pat. 139, 141 (1913). In addition, decisions on revival are made on a "case-by-case basis, taking all the facts and circumstances into account." Smith v. Mossinghoff, 671 F.2d 533, 538, 213 USPQ 977, 982 (D.C. Cir. 1982). Finally, a petition cannot be granted where a petitioner has failed to meet his or her burden of establishing that the delay was "unavoidable." Haines v. Quigg, 673 F. Supp. 314, 316-17, 5 USPQ2d 1130, 1131-32 (N.D. Ind. 1987).

<sup>4</sup> See MPEP 711(c)(III)(C)(2) for a discussion of the requirements for a showing of unavoidable delay.

In this instance, applicant filed an amendment after final rejection, but the amendment was ultimately determined not to place the application in condition for allowance. While the Advisory Action was not mailed until after the time period for reply to the final Office action had expired, petitioner may not rely upon non-receipt of an advisory action to establish that the delay was unavoidable. 37 CFR 1.116 and 1.135(b) are manifest that proceedings concerning an amendment after final rejection will not operate to avoid abandonment of the application in the absence of a timely and proper appeal. A delay is not "unavoidable" when an applicant simply permits the maximum extendable statutory period for reply to a final Office action to expire while awaiting a notice of allowance or other action.<sup>6</sup>

Moreover, abandonment takes place by operation of law for failure to timely submit a proper reply to an Office action.<sup>7</sup> The rule clearly indicates that the mere filing of an amendment does not save the application from abandonment. Only the filing of a Notice of Appeal, Request for Continued Examination and submission under 37 CFR 1.114, or continuing application guarantees the pendency of the application, not filing an amendment after final rejection. Thus, the application became abandoned due to petitioner's failure to file a Notice of Appeal, RCE and submission, or continuing application prior to the period for reply to the final Office action, and not because of any error on the part of the Office.

To the extent that petitioner relied on the examiner's assurances that a Notice of Allowance would be mailed, while such reliance is certainly unfortunate, it does not constitute unavoidable delay. To this end, MPEP 711.03(c) states, a delay caused by an applicant's lack of knowledge or improper application of the patent statute, rules of practice or the MPEP is not rendered "unavoidable" due to: (A) the applicants' reliance upon oral advice from USPTO employees; or (B) the USPTO's failure to advise the applicants of any deficiency in sufficient time to permit the applicant to take corrective action.<sup>8</sup> Additionally, 37 CFR 1.2 states that the action of the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office will be based exclusively on the written record in the Office. No attention will be paid to any alleged oral promise, stipulation, or understanding in relation to which there is disagreement or doubt. In this regard, while the examiner's facsimile cover sheet stated that the time period "will start upon official mailing of this Notice of Allowance" no Notice of Allowance was actually mailed.

The U.S. Patent and Trademark Office must rely on the actions or inactions of duly authorized and voluntarily chosen representatives of the applicant, and applicant is bound by the consequences of those actions or inactions.<sup>9</sup> Specifically, petitioner's delay caused by the mistakes or negligence of his voluntarily chosen representative does not constitute unavoidable delay within the meaning of 35 U.S.C. § 133.<sup>10</sup>

In summary, while the Office is mindful of the circumstances surrounding this application, the showing of record is that petitioner did not exercise a level of care consistent with a reasonably prudent person in relation to his or her most important business. Accordingly, the showing of record does not rise to the level of unavoidable delay.

As the showing of record is insufficient to satisfy the requirements of a grantable petition under 37 CFR 1.137(a), the petition will be dismissed.

ALTERNATIVE VENUE

Petitioner may wish to consider filing a renewed petition under 37 CFR 1.137(b), which now provides that where the delay in reply was unintentional, a petition may be filed to revive an abandoned application or a lapsed patent pursuant to 37 CFR 1.137(b). A grantable petition pursuant to 37 CFR 1.137(b) must be accompanied by:

(1) the required reply, unless previously filed. In a nonprovisional application abandoned for failure to prosecute, the required reply may be met by the filing of a continuing application. In a nonprovisional utility or plant application filed on or after 8 June, 1995, and abandoned for failure to prosecute, the required reply may also be met by the filing of a request for continued examination in compliance with § 1.114. In an application or patent, abandoned or lapsed for failure to pay the issue fee or any portion thereof, the required reply must be the payment of the issue fee or any outstanding balance thereof. In an application, abandoned for failure to pay the publication fee, the required reply must include payment of the publication fee.

(2) the petition fee as set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(m);

(3) a statement that the entire delay in filing the required reply from the due date for the reply until the filing of a grantable petition pursuant to 37 CFR 1.137(b) was unintentional. The Commissioner may require additional information where there is a question whether the delay was unintentional; and

(4) any terminal disclaimer (and fee as set forth in 37 CFR 1.20(d)) required pursuant to 37 CFR 1.137(c)).

The filing of a petition under the unintentional standard cannot be intentionally delayed and therefore should be filed promptly. A person seeking revival due to unintentional delay cannot make a statement that the delay was unintentional unless the entire delay, including the delay from the date it was discovered that the application was abandoned until the filing of the petition to revive under 37 CFR 1.137(b), was unintentional. A statement that the delay was unintentional is not appropriate if petitioner intentionally delayed the filing of a petition for revival under 37 CFR 1.137(b).

A copy of the form for filing a petition under 37 CFR 1.137(b) to revive an application unintentionally abandoned is enclosed herewith for petitioner's convenience.
